

SWIMMERS CONTEST BEFORE 2500 FANS IN COUNTY MEET

Long Lake Men Praised—
Swimmers Were Feted
Last Night.

Before a crowd estimated at nearly three thousand, Lake county's best swimmers contested for championship honors last Sunday afternoon at Long Lake beach in the greatest aquatic meet ever held in the county.

Joe Lima of Waukegan was the leading point man among the men while Regina Gilden, also of Waukegan led the women's events.

Lima captured a first place in the 100 yard free style race for men and repeated the feat in the two mile swim for men. Miss Gilden made her honors by taking first in the mile swim for women and first in the 100 yard swim for girls under 16 years of age.

Winners Are Feted

The winners of the various events were feted at a banquet held in their honor last night on the roof of Hotel Waukegan. Gold, silver and bronze trophies were presented to the winners.

Great credit is due H. M. Griffith and a group of other Long Lake business men who sponsored the county meet and made it the success it proved to be. Wonderful opportunities exist in the county, the land of lakes and expert swimmers, to have many affairs of this kind, and it is hoped that a similar meet will be held at the Long Lake beach next year.

Famous Lotus Beds Of Grass Lake Are Now In Full Bloom

For the first time in three years the famous lotus beds of Grass Lake are again in bloom and promise to continue blossoming for another three weeks. The blooms this year are very pretty and hundreds of sight-seekers have visited the lake during the past week.

Three years ago high water threatened to exterminate the plants for all time. At that time Grass Lake exceeded its usual level and the flowers were covered. Within two years the lotus will be as thick as ever, according to Jack O'Connor of Blaney Isle, who has been a close observer of the conditions of the lotus beds.

OLD ARMOUR LAND BOUGHT BY GUN CLUB

One of the oldest Italian organizations in the city, the Alpine Gun club has purchased from Armour & Co., the latter's property used by the packing firm as a summer resort for employees and as an ice storage center during the winter months.

The property consists of 142 acres in land and water, a main clubhouse which was formerly used as a residence for the Armour workers, three cottages, a garage, and other lesser buildings.

The Alpine Gun club, organized in 1892, now has about 112 members. It has had on its rolls some of the most prominent members of the Italian community. Formerly its outdoor activities were carried on at Antioch, Illinois. It is strictly a social organization.

For Outdoor Sports

There are facilities for 200 guests in the main clubhouse, which contains a ballroom, dining room, and recreation room, besides sleeping quarters. Outdoors there are two shooting traps, tennis courts, a putting course, and facilities for boating and fishing.

Until twelve years ago the organization was limited to those of Italian ancestry, but it is now cosmopolitan. Among the honorary members is H. Percy Millar, for twelve years Chicago correspondent of the New York Times but now retired and living at Algonquin.

Armour & Co. held the property for some twenty-five or thirty years before turning it over to the Alpine Gun club.

BOYS ARE GUESTS AT THE ANTIOCH THEATRE and School.

Over one hundred boys from St. Joseph's Camp, Petite Lake, and Alendale school, Lake Villa, were the guests at the Antioch Theatre Wednesday afternoon at a special showing of Harold Lloyd in "Speedy," "Our Gang" comedy and Felix the Kat. The youngsters were guests of Mr. Fred B. Swanson, manager of the theatre, who was assisted by a group of business men who furnished cars to bring the lads to the theatre and take them home again. All of the guests were treated to ice cream after the performance, through the courtesy of Miss Hazel Voorhees, theatre organist, and Mr. Oliver G. Johnson, who donated their services to help make the event one of enjoyment to the boys.

Lake county scrapers are getting good. The best that Pinkey Mitchell could bring down to this county from the Cream City last Friday night were not good enough to win half of the victories in the eight-bout program staged at the Antioch Palace by Promoter Dick Macek and Matchmaker Helme Wallenwein. The best that Milwaukee's battlers could do was to win two of the eight bouts, one a close decision when Sid Novak earned the verdict over Arne Jokinen, and the other victory was technical kyo of Glenn Meus of Chicago at hands of Frank Tennyson of Milwaukee.

Many Stars Appear In "A Bit of Heaven" Coming Here Soon

D. of G. A. R. Sponsoring Feature Movie at The Theatre.

Lila Lee and Bryant Washburn are to be seen in "A Bit of Heaven" at the Crystal Theatre where the picture opens a two-day engagement next Monday night, Aug. 27, appearing with their supporting cast are: Richard Tucker, Otto Lederer, Lucy Beaumont, Martha Mattox, Jacqueline Gadsden and a number of others.

A very good picture! A truly splendid cast! All in all, a capital entertainment.

Whether the story, the stars or the settings make the picture good is really beside the point. It is not easy to divide the credit, because all seem to be superlative. Certainly the finished picture itself is.

"A Bit of Heaven" concerns itself with the love episode between Roger Van Dorn, scion of a proud and wealthy family, and Fola Dale, leading lady and dancing star of the Scandals Revue. Their marriage came fairly easy. But then the difficulties start.

Obstacles from his family, jealousy from one of his old friends; the love of the theatre by Fola, love for her by one of her old cronies—these are the elements that mix disaster.

Divorce follows—and then the love story starts all anew and progresses to the point all true love should reach—marriage; though in this case it is re-marriage.

"A Bit of Heaven" is an extraordinarily good story; a striking good picture. It is emphatically distinguished by the treatment of its stage atmosphere, particularly the very splendid dances conceived and executed by Maurice Kussel.

The feature film, which is shown under the auspices of the local chap-

HOOVER MEETS FARM PROBLEM

Urges Expenditure of Hundreds of Millions on a Workable Program

FAVORS HIGHER TARIFF WALL

Farmers Must Control and Administer Federal Farm Aid, Says Candidate.

HOOVER ON FARM RELIEF:

An adequate tariff is the foundation of farm relief. Working out agricultural relief is the most important obligation of the next Administration. The object of our policies is to establish for our farmers an income equal to those of other occupations. Farming is and must continue an individualistic business of small units and independent ownership. If the farmers' position is to be improved by larger operations it must be done not on the farm, but in the field of distribution. Our platform lays a solid basis upon which we can build. It offers an affirmative program. Nature has endowed us with a great system of inland waterways. Their modernization will comprise a substantial contribution to mid-west farm relief and development of 20 interior states. There is no more vital method of farm relief.

PALO ALTO, Calif.—Herbert Hoover met the farm question fairly and squarely in his Address of Acceptance at the Stadium of Stanford University. Nearly one-third of his address was devoted to this subject, which Hoover termed "the most urgent economic problem in our nation today." He declared bluntly that farm relief must not be delayed by any monetary considerations, urging that "a nation which is spending ninety billions a year can well afford an expenditure of a few hundred millions for a workable program that will give to one-third of its population their fair share of the national prosperity."

The candidate pledged himself to a farm-aid plan in which farmers shall themselves control and administer the federal financial assistance which he proposes to put into effect. "The most urgent economic problem in our nation today is in agriculture," he said. "It must be solved if we are to bring prosperity and contentment to one-third of our people directly and to all of our people indirectly. We have pledged ourselves to a solution. In my mind most agricultural discussions go wrong because of two false premises. The first is that agriculture is one industry. It is a dozen distinct industries incapable of the same organization. The second false premise is that rehabilitation will be complete when it has reached a point comparable with pre-war. Agriculture was not upon a satisfactory basis before the war. The abandoned farms of the northeast bear their own testimony. Generally there was but little profit in midwest agriculture for many years except that derived from the slow increases in farm land values. Even of more importance is the great advance in standards of living of all occupations since the war. Some branches of agriculture have greatly recovered, but taken as a whole it is not keeping pace with the onward march in other industries."

Cause and Effect

"There are many causes for failure of agriculture to win its full share of national prosperity. The after-war deflation of prices not only brought great direct losses to the farmer, but he was often left indebted in inflated dollars to be paid in deflated dollars. Prices are often demoralized through glut in our markets during the harvest season. Local taxes have been increased to provide the improved roads and schools. The tariff on some products is proving inadequate to protect him from imports from abroad. The increases in transportation rates since the war has greatly affected the price which he receives for his products. Over six million farmers in times of surplus engage in destructive competition with one another in sale of their product, often depressing prices below those levels that could be maintained. The whole tendency of our civilization during the last 50 years has been toward an increase in the size of the units of production in order to secure lower costs and a more orderly adjustment of the flow of commodities to the demand. But the organization of agriculture into larger units must not be by enlarged farms. The farmer has shown he can increase the skill of his industry without large operations. He is today producing 20 per cent more than eight years ago with about the same acreage and personnel. Farming is and must continue to be an individualistic business of small units and independent ownership. The farm is more than a business; it is a state of living. We do not wish it converted into a mass production machine. Therefore, if the farmers' position is to be improved by larger operations it must be done not on the farm but in the field of distribution. Agriculture has partially advanced in this direction through co-operatives and pools. But the traditional co-operative is often not a complete solution. Differences of opinion as to both causes and remedy have retarded the completion of a constructive program of relief. It is our plain duty to search out the common ground on which we may mobilize the sound forces of agricultural reconstruction. Our platform lays a solid basis upon which to build. It offers an affirmative program.

Tariff and Waterways

"An adequate tariff is the foundation of farm relief. Our consumers increase faster than our producers. The domestic market must be protected. Foreign products raised under lower standards of living are today competing in our home markets. I would use my office and influence to give the farmer the full benefit of our historic tariff policy."

"A large portion of the spread between what the farmer receives for his products and what the ultimate consumer pays is due to increased transportation charges. Increase in railway rates has been one of the penalties of the war. These increases have been added to the cost to the farmer of reaching seaboard and foreign markets and result therefore in reduction of his prices. The farmers of foreign countries have thus been indirectly aided in their competition with the American farmer. Nature has endowed us with a great system of inland waterways. Their modernization will comprise a most substantial contribution to midwest farm relief and to the development of twenty of our interior states. This modernization includes not only the great Mississippi system, with its joining of the Great Lakes and of the heart of mid-west agriculture to the Gulf, but also a shipway from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic. These improvements would mean so large an increment in farmers' prices as to warrant their construction many times over. There is no more vital method of farm relief."

"But we must not stop here. An outstanding proposal of the Party program is the whole-hearted pledge to undertake the reorganization of the marketing system upon sounder and more economical lines. We have already contributed greatly to this purpose by the acts supporting farm co-operatives, the establishment of intermediate credit banks, the regulation of stockyards, public exchanges and the expansion of the Department of Agriculture. The platform proposes

REPUBLICAN RECORD

Our problems of the past seven years have been problems of reconstruction; our problems of the future are problems of construction. They are problems of progress.

During these years our population has increased eight percent. Yet our national income has increased 45 percent. The number of families has increased 2,300,000 and we have built 3,500,000 new and better homes. We have equipped 9,000,000 more homes with electricity, and through it drudgery has been lifted from the lives of women. The barriers of time and distance have been swept away and life made freer and larger by the installation of 6,000,000 more telephones, 7,000,000 radio sets and the service of an additional 14,000,000 automobiles.

By rigorous economy, federal expenses have been reduced two billions annually. The national debt has been reduced six and a half billions. Taxes have been reduced four successive times. We have doubled savings deposits and nearly doubled life insurance.

President Coolidge has not only given a memorable administration, he has left an imprint of rectitude and statesmanship on our country.

to go much farther. It pledges the creation of a Federal Farm Board of representative farmers to be clothed with authority and resources with which not only to still further aid farmers' co-operatives and pools and to assist generally in solution of farm problems but especially to build up with federal finance, farmer-owned and farmer-controlled stabilization corporations to protect the farmer from the depressions and demoralization of seasonal glut and periodical surpluses.

Will Cost Money

"Objection has been made that this program, as laid down by the Party Platform, may require that several hundred millions of dollars of capital be advanced by the Federal Government without obligation upon the individual farmer. With that objection I have little patience. A nation which is spending ninety billions a year can well afford an expenditure of a few hundred millions for a workable program that will give to one-third of its population their fair share of the nation's prosperity. Nor does this proposal put the government into business except so far as it is called upon to furnish initial capital with which to build up the farmer to the control of his own destinies."

"This program adapts itself to the variable problems of agriculture not only today but which will arise in the future. I do not believe that any single human being or any group of human beings can determine in advance all questions that will arise in so vast and complicated an industry over a term of years. The first step is to create an effective agency directly for these purposes and to give it authority and resources. These are solemn pledges and they will be fulfilled by the Republican Party. It is a definite plan of relief. It needs only the detailed elaboration of legislation and appropriations to put it into force."

"During my term as Secretary of Commerce I have steadily endeavored to build up a system of co-operation between the government and business. Under these co-operative actions all elements interested in the problem of a particular industry such as manufacturer, distributor, worker, and consumer have been called in council together, not for a single occasion, but for continuous work. These efforts have been successful beyond any expectation. They have been accomplished without interference or regulation by the government. They have secured progress in the industries, remedy for abuses, elimination of waste, reduction of cost in production and distribution, lower prices to the consumer, and more stable employment and profit. While the problem

POINTS FROM HOOVER SPEECH

It shall be an honest campaign; every penny will be publicly accounted for.

Having earned my living with my own hands I cannot have other than the greatest sympathy with the aspirations of those who toil.

Our purpose is to build in this nation a human society, not an economic system.

Appointive office, both North, South, East and West, must be based solely on merit, character, and reputation in the community in which the appointee is to serve. Participation of women in politics means higher standards.

Our workers can buy two and often three times more bread and butter than any wage earner in Europe.

By blood and conviction I stand for religious tolerance both in act and in spirit.

Our foreign policy has one primary object, and that is peace.

Government should not engage in business in competition with its citizens.

varies with every different commodity and with every different part of our great country, I should wish to apply the same method to agriculture so that the leaders of every phase of each group can advise and organize on policies and constructive measures. I am convinced this form of action, as it has done in other industries, can benefit farmer, distributor and consumer.

Greater Opportunities

"The working out of agricultural relief constitutes the most important obligation of the next Administration. I stand pledged to these proposals. The object of our policies is to establish for our farmers an income equal to those of other occupations; for the farmer's wife the same comforts in her home as women in other groups; for the farm boys and girls the same opportunities in life as other boys and girls. So far as my own abilities may be of service, I dedicate them to help secure prosperity and contentment in that industry where I and my forefathers were born and nearly all my family still obtain their livelihood."

"The Republican Party has ever been the exponent of protection to all our people from competition with lower standards of living abroad. We have always fought for tariffs designed to establish this protection from imported goods. We also have enacted restrictions upon immigration for the protection of labor from the inflow of workers faster than we can absorb them without breaking down our wage levels."

"The Republican principle of an effective control of imported goods and of immigration has contributed greatly to the prosperity of our country. There is no selfishness in this defense of our standards of living. Other countries gain nothing if the high standards of America are sunk and if we are prevented from building a civilization which sets the level of hope for the entire world. A general reduction in the tariff would admit a flood of goods from abroad. It would injure every home. It would fill our streets with idle workers. It would destroy the returns to our dairymen, our fruit, flax, and livestock growers, and our other farmers."

Prohibition

On the subject of prohibition, Mr. Hoover repeated his recent declaration: "I do not favor repeal of the 18th Amendment. I stand for efficient enforcement of laws enacted thereunder. Our country has deliberately undertaken a great social and economic experiment, noble in motive and far-reaching in purpose. It must be worked out constructively." And he added the following comment:

"Common sense compels us to realize that grave abuses have occurred—abuses which must be remedied. Investigation can alone determine the wise method of correcting them. Crime and disobedience of law cannot be permitted to break down the Constitution and laws of the United States."

"Modification of the enforcement laws which would permit that which the Constitution forbids is nullification. This the American people will not countenance. Change in the Constitution can and must be brought about only by the straightforward methods provided in the Constitution itself. There are those who do not believe in the purposes of several provisions of the Constitution. No one denies their right to seek to amend it. They are not subject to criticism for asserting that right. But the Republican Party does deny the right of anyone to seek to destroy the purposes of the Constitution by indirect means."

"Whoever is elected President takes an oath not only to faithfully execute the office of the President, but that oath provides still further that he will, to the best of his ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States. I should be untrue to these great traditions, untrue to my oath of office, were I to declare otherwise."

The wholesale poisoning of dogs in Salem has brought forth the following comment from a resident of the community:

There are those in whom ignorance is excusable, but the state of mind that would harm a person to place poisoned food before his neighbors, if he had any, comes under the head of criminal ignorance or savagery. Would that the noble tendencies of the life of a Keltic, whose life work was an example of kindness to animals, be instilled into this narrow mind before some little child, instead of his pet, becomes the victim of this cowardly trait.

Mound Builders Were Mongoloids From Asia

Quincy, Ill.—That the Illinois mound builders are to be classed with the American Indians, and that they are not a mysterious Asiatic race, is the belief of Prof. William M. Krogman of the University of Chicago, here with Prof. Faye Cole of the department of anthropology to conduct explorations.

It is Krogman's theory that the Indians were a mongoloid people from Asia who made their way to this country by way of the Aleutian chain of islands and then gradually spread in many directions.

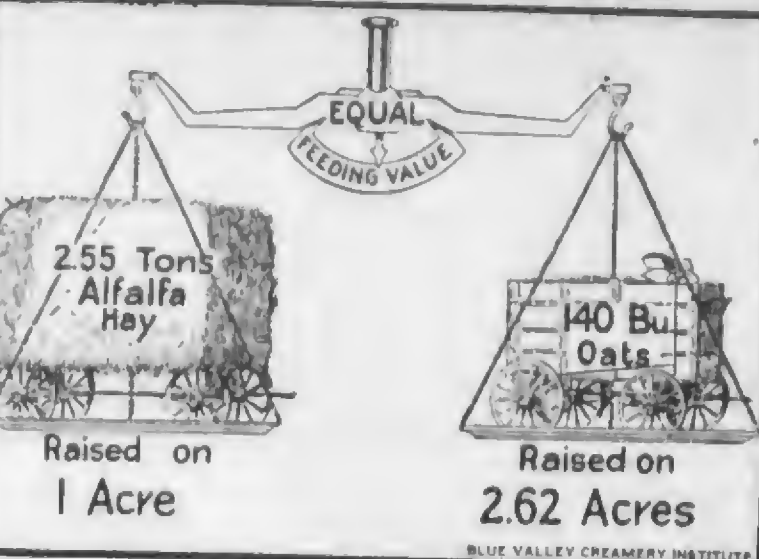

The migration, Krogman thinks, came in successive waves, new arrivals from Asia, coming and pushing the tribes that were previously here further south, east and west.

The period of initial migration is placed at 10,000 years ago. The first comers had the Neolithic, or late Stone Age culture, using stone weapons and ornaments, while the dog was the only domesticated animal.

Centuries later, after the Spanish came, the Indians began to use horses. Krogman traced the formation of the Mayan, Aztec and Inca settlements in North and South America and which developed a comparatively high civilization.

AN ACRE OF ALFALFA EQUALS THE FEEDING VALUE OF 2.62 ACRES OF OATS

ALFALFA HAY CROP YIELD IS HIGHEST

Acre of Alfalfa Has Same Feeding Value as 140 Bushels of Oats.

One acre in alfalfa does the work of 2.62 acres in oats, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. An average acre of alfalfa producing 255 tons of hay in a season produces a volume of forage that has the same feeding value as 140 bushels of oats produced on 2.62 acres. This comparison is based on feeding tests made by the North Dakota Agricultural College, in which 4,000 pounds of alfalfa hay equaled 3,520 pounds of oats.

The institute estimates that the acre yield of alfalfa hay is equal to 2.62 acres of oats on the basis that it takes only 1.34 pounds of alfalfa hay to equal one pound of oats in feeding value. In the Minnesota dairying district where the survey was made, it was found that the average yield per acre was 2,555 tons or 5,100 pounds of alfalfa as against a yield of 1,712 pounds of oats to an acre.

Many farmers are under the impression that the yield of an acre in grain will make as much milk and butterfat as will the product of an acre in hay. And it will, in certain instances when high yield grains such as corn are compared with low protein, non-leguminous hay such as timothy. But the comparison does not hold true when an acre of alfalfa with its high yield of protein is matched against an average acre of oats, yielding even the high average of 58.5 bushels per acre. It must be remembered, however, that oats, pound for pound, as shown by the North Dakota station, have a higher feeding value than has alfalfa, and it is not recommended to plant all of the land devoted to oats in alfalfa, because a certain amount of oats in the grain ration is sometimes needed for variety. Crushed oats with ground corn, corn-chop, as it is called in many sections, form the base of a low-cost grain ration that can be grown on most farms in the Mississippi valley.

Alfalfa is famed as a milk and butterfat producer because of the fact that it produces a high yield of protein per acre. Alfalfa, pound for pound, equals grain in its ability to produce low-cost milk and butterfat. This year is an especially good year to plant an acre of alfalfa for every single cow and every two heifers on every farm, because cattle of all kinds have rarely been as profitable as they are at this time. Hogs, too, make cheaper pork on pastures planted in alfalfa and both hogs and hens, as well as cows, can profitably consume alfalfa hay and leaves during the winter barn-feeding season.

Last Thursday night, Elmer Brock spotted the plans of a couple of young men who were looking for a tree up which they detected them hammering around the Stanton barn at about 12 o'clock. Watching from cover he saw them hitch up the Stanton rig and drive away. Then awakening the owners of the horse and buggy he took out his machine and gave them chase. The culprits were over taken on the Channel Lake road but managed to avoid capture by leaving the rig and running across the field. If present plans carry, an improvement will be made in the lake-region near Antioch within the next year which will cost from $40,000 to $50,000 and when it is finished the value of property in the territory affected will have enhanced perhaps $100,000 or more. If the plan carries, it will be possible to enter a boat near the depot in Antioch and proceed directly to the lakes to the west, from whence the boat may go down Fox river to McHenry and other points or north to Wilmet, Wis., and other places of interest. Of course access to these points by boat is now possible, only, however, after one drives to Lake Marie, west of the village.

The farmers of Lake county are having a round of trouble with what seems to be an organized gang of grain robbers who have been operating throughout the county for the past two weeks. One farmer claims to have lost over a hundred bags of oats and many others are losing in smaller quantities.

The first annual ball given by the Masons of Sequoit lodge on Friday evening was quite largely attended and was a success in every way. The supper served by the Eastern Star was all that could be desired and drew praise from every side. The money realized will be spent in furnishing their new lodge rooms.

BROTHER KILLS SISTER; SAYS HE FEARED SPIRITS

Beloved New York School Teacher Is Beaten and Stabbed to Death.

New York—Miss Emma A. Leach, fifty, one of the best-known school teachers in the borough, was found murdered recently on the third floor of the home she shared with her brother, Thomas, forty-five. Her skull was crushed and she had been stabbed many times.

Alleged to have confessed the killing "to save her from being annoyed by spirits," the victim's brother was held on a charge of homicide.

Miss Leach, who assisted another sister in the support of Thomas, sickly for years and released only three months ago from a Long Island sanitarium, was killed soon after she retired for the night.

The crime was discovered by police who visited the three-story and basement home of the Leaches in response to many telephone calls from neighbors. They had heard Miss Leach's pet dog, Brownie, barking throughout the night and because the bottles of milk and newspapers remained at the door, sensed something was wrong.

When the police rang the basement doorbell Leach, wearing only an undershirt, trousers and carpet slippers, opened the door. "What is your pleasure, gentlemen?" was his greeting. The officer explained his mission. "I'm glad you came," said Leach. "Maybe you can help me wake my sister, Emma. I've been trying to do that all day. Better come along to the third floor with me."

The policemen followed and then discovered the murder, which they later described as most brutal. The body, clad in a nightgown, lay across the bed. On a chair near by was a long section of lead pipe and a stained carving knife.

Then, as calmly as if he were discussing the weather, Leach told of events leading up to the killing. According to police, Leach made the following statement:

"Emma came home at six o'clock the other night. I got supper and then she sat in her room and read until ten o'clock. I went to bed, but couldn't sleep. The spirits were bothering me. They were telling me all over my body with feathers. I didn't want them to bother Emma so I went to the cellar and got a piece of lead pipe and blither on the head. "She cried, 'For God's sake, Tom, what are you doing?' I said, 'I'm saving you from the spirits.' Then I lit her again and went back to bed, but the spirits kept bothering me. I set a knife in the kitchen and stabbed Emma."

"Then I prayed for her some time and then got her some food, but she wouldn't speak to me. I've been trying to wake her all day."

Mrs. Josephine Ford of Brookline, sister of the dead woman, when told of the death of her sister, said to Captain Walling at the Grand avenue station: "You must have been crazy to do a thing like that. Why, he fairly worshipped the ground Emma walked on."

State Law Bars All Signs Across Highways

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 13—Cities and towns along the state highways must seek some other method of extending a greeting to the tourists than erection of arches over the highways with the word "Welcome," or the name of the community.

The state law forbids advertising signs of any nature on state highways and under a ruling of the attorney general's office it is held signs of this character should be classed as advertising and are restricted.

"Welcome," says the opinion, "would be considered advertising. The law forbids any signs except highway markers placed by the state, and all others, whether gates or not, would be in violation of the statute."

Lindbergh to Be Legion Guest at Convention

The largest and most important gathering World War veterans have held will be the tenth national convention of the American Legion at San Antonio October 5 to 12, marking the tenth anniversary of the close of the war.

Acceptance by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh of an invitation to be a distinguished guest of the convention has added greatly to the already keen interest in the convention.

HEALTH GRAMS

Dodging individuals and crowds to avoid disease is like turning hermit to get away from an evil world. Health, like religion, is most useful to the fellow who can control it among all the hazards which beset humanity. An isolated hermit would probably never get smallpox nor could he perform the services of the doctor or nurse whose vaccination is a shield against a loathsome disease.

Infantile paralysis is likely to become increasingly prevalent during the next sixty days but feeling the country is no preventive or protective measure. Good resistive power at home is a better safeguard than a thousand leagues of space from the first reported case.

A trip from birth to death is like a race between contending athletes. When a cinder track is laid and sidelines guard the runners from the crowd each contender can go faster than would be possible over a corn field or along the sidewalks. Habits of hygiene are to an individual's health what the cinder track is to the fleet-foot runner.

Illinois folk put in several million hours at golf every summer and the height of the golf season is also the time when the best health conditions prevail. Golf is a factor in good health merely in that it brings multitudes of people into the open and gives mental relaxation.

The fellow who violates health laws is like the man who killed the goose to get the golden eggs. A human body will keep on running, securing the stuff out of which vigorous, happy life is made for 50 or 70 years if the owner of the body gives it a reasonable chance.

TOWN PROGRESS TALKS

Every town, including ours, would like to land more factories because of the money they bring to town, and we are right in doing all we can to attract them to our town. But while we are gunning for new factories, we must not neglect the business that lies in the trading territory surrounding our town. We must endeavor to make our shops as attractive as possible, and render every courtesy to our friends from the country. We must invite them in newspaper ads to trade in this town and show them that we appreciate their patronage. They spend hundreds of thousands of dollars every year, and it is up to us to induce them to spend it here. A bird like this in the hand is worth two factories in the bush.

Base Ball at Kenosha County Fair

There will be a base ball game each day at the West Kenosha County Fair Sept. 20-22, this year. It is highly probable that Wilmot and Silverlake will play this series for the championship of Kenosha county. Each of these teams have wonderful records this year and are very anxious to fight it out for the championship.

Wilmot Loses to Union Grove 15-14

Wilmot pounded Letsch for twenty-one hits including home runs by E. Frank and Getka, and triples by Getka, Gegan and Schnurr. Union Grove started their heavy stick work in the first inning when a home run by Letsch with the bases full netted four runs. Elmer Getka went to the mound out in the fourth with the score 12-4 against the locals and stopped the hard hitters from Union Grove for the rest of the game. Getka allowed only four hits during the five innings he worked struck out seven men and was the star performer of the game as he pounded out a home run, a triple, a double and two singles in six times at bat. His home run was the longest hit ever made at the Union Grove park. M. Schnurr starred for Wilmot throughout the game, playing a great defensive game at second and smacking out a triple and three singles at bat. Felts was hurt twice during the game by foul tips but gamely struck out the game.

Burlington will not be at the local park next Sunday but the strong Round Lake team will play Wilmot that day. Wilmot defeated Round Lake on their home grounds early in the season.

Odd English Auction

A curious auction is held in the village of Upwey, Weymouth, England, every spring when the parish meadow is rented for the year, not to the highest bidder, but to the one who bids last when the light from a bit of candle expires.—New York Times

May Press Button
In The Future To
Hurry Their Crops

Washington, D. C.—The day may come when the farmer with backward crops need only push a button to speed their growth. U. S. Department of Agriculture experts find that the flowering and fruiting of plants can be regulated by exposing them to prescribed doses of electric light.

Some plants mature more quickly if given more light than they ordinarily receive during the day. Others grow more rapidly if the amount of light is decreased. As a rule, plants which normally bloom in the summer can be induced to flower in the winter if the days are artificially lengthened by the use of electric lighting. And those ordinarily maturing during the short winter days will blossom in the summer if the amount of light they receive is decreased.

Soy beans, requiring an average of 85 days for vegetation in Washington, were matured by Department of Agriculture experts in 20 to 25 days when exposed to electric light rays 8 to 12 hours daily. In the experiments 1,000-watt Mazda lamps were used. A 2-inch screen of flowing water was interposed between the light and the plant to prevent injury.

Cows Differ Up To 51 Cents a Day In Returns They Make

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 20.—Differences as great as 51 cents a day in the returns which different Illinois dairy cows pay their owners over and above the cost of feed have been discovered by J. H. Brock, assistant in dairy extension at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, in summarizing the records of 450 cows tested for milk and butterfat production in dairy herd improvement associations of the state last year.

Those cows in the highest producing group each averaged 4961 lbs. of fat for the year and returned their owners $213 above the cost of feed, or 58 cents a day a cow. In contrast, cows in the lowest producing group had an average of only 1214 pounds of butterfat to their credit and paid returns, over and above the cost of feed, of only $28.07 each. In other words, they returned just 7 cents a day to be used in defraying other expenses of production, such as labor, interest on investment, building and equipment cost and other miscellaneous items, Brock pointed out. A third class of cows about midway between the best and the poorest ones averaged 2876 pounds of butterfat for the year and returned $113.13 more than their feed cost for the year, or about 31 cents a day.

"Stop The Killing" Better Than "Pay As You Kill"

Compulsory automobile accident insurance, instead of reducing accidents would have the opposite effect, said Edison S. Lott, President of the United States Casualty company, in a recent address.

According to Mr. Lott, a recent survey showed that 15,000,000 automobiles in the United States caused 600,000 injuries. Of the latter, 400,000 of the injured persons indemnity. The consequence of such enforced insurance would be that 14,000,000 automobiles would be burned with expense in order to provide for the possible 100,000 which would be entirely at fault.

"We can't understand why accidents would be lessened by automobile insurance," Mr. Lott continued. "On the contrary, persons compelled to carry insurance against their will would be inclined to be more careless."

He called for a "stop the killing" instead of a "pay as you kill" plan.

He said that the present legal process is a "pay as you kill" plan, and that it is a "stop the killing" plan that is needed.

Farm Electrification In Offering, Mullaney Tells Pontiac Audience

Pontiac, Illinois.—The problem of how to put electricity to work at the farm is the subject of a lecture given by Bernard J. Mullaney, president of The People's Gas and Electric company, Chicago, and president of the Illinois Committee on Rural Electrification, here recently.

Reduced to its simplest terms, this problem of farm electrification becomes one of providing electric service at a price the farmer can afford to accept, said Mr. Mullaney.

The solution of the problem is being undertaken with considerable success by a national committee on the location of electricity in agriculture, having an office in Chicago.

Mullaney's organizations, women's clubs, the United States government, electric, gas and power industry, manufacturers and other interested groups are members. Mr. Mullaney said.

Estimates show that more than 200,000 farms in the United States were receiving electric service from transmission lines on the first of the year and as many more had individual electric plants.

There are 200 different kinds of work, different jobs, on the farm that electricity can do to advantage, he said. "On a corn belt farm, these range all the way from lighting the premises to pumping the water; from running a washing machine to cutting silage, from heating the curdling iron for mother and the girls, to tending the chickens' incubator for father and the boys."

Development of rural electrification as well as the extension of public utility services in municipalities, is matter of co-operation between the citizens of the community and the public service companies, the speaker declared. When such problems mutual interest are approached on a horse-trade basis, all parties are cheated, and the growth of the community is retarded.

Ages of Candidates

There is less than a year's difference in the ages of Hoover and Smith. The former will be 54 this month. Smith is seven months his senior.

The President oldest at the time of his inauguration was William H. Harrison (68) and the youngest was Roosevelt (42).

Others in their sixties when inaugurated were Adams, Jackson, Taylor and Buchanan. Others in their forties were Polk, Pierce, Grant, Garfield and Cleveland.

Nineteen of our Presidents were in their fifties when sworn into office. As for the present vice-presidential nominees, Curtis is 68, and Robinson will be 56 in August.

Why Risk Paying With Cash

When you want to pay a bill or purchase something do you pay cash? Or do you give a check? Cash is a risky way to handle money. Errors in change are always possible. Receipts are very easily lost. A bank check is proof that you have paid. We welcome new checking accounts.

LAKE VILLA BOY DIVES IN AVERY'S POOL AND SAVES DROWNING BOY

Slater Family Moves To
Indiana; Mrs. Madsen
Is In Hospital.

Russell Nickerson proved last week how valuable it is to know how to dive and swim when he rescued a boy who had gone down for the third time in the Avery swimming pool at Cedar Lake. The boy with his mother and friends were guests of the Kruppa family for the day and lived in Chicago. He was not able to swim very well and went beyond his depth. His sister tried to help him but was not strong enough. They called for help and Russell who was some distance away, came and dived in, clothes and all and was able to locate him and bring him up where he was given aid and it was some time before he was himself but was finally able to return to his home that evening.

The Slater family, who have been residents of our vicinity for some time, living on the O. W. Lehmann farm, have recently moved to Anderson, Ind. Edward Slater was last of the family to go—he went last week.

Mrs. Chas. Madsen is in the Victory Memorial hospital, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis last Friday. Her many friends are pleased to hear that she is recovering as rapidly as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Manzer, Mr. and Mrs. Al Boehm and Miss Katherine started Sunday morning for their log cabin which they built in Northern Wisconsin, a couple of years ago. They will camp there the next two weeks and fish to their heart's content.

Miss Elsa Seeger accompanied Lester Hamlin to Paw Paw, Ill., where they spent Sunday with the Manny family, who formerly lived here.

Begin Classifying of 7,200 Kinds of Plants

Washington. — The classification and identification of a large collection of tropical flowers, ferns and plants gathered last winter in the lofty mountains and dense jungles of eastern Colombia, some of which have never before been seen by an American, is the summer's task confronting Dr. Ellsworth P. Killip and Albert C. Smith of the Smithsonian Institution.

Doctor Killip, assistant curator, and Mr. Smith, collaborator in the division of plants of the national museum, spent four months in the eastern cordillera of Colombia north of the Panama region and brought back nearly 7,200 specimens, representing about 7,200 varieties of plant life.

These included 500 "collecting numbers" of ferns, 300 of orchids, more than 200 of the umbelliferous and cactus families, about 75 morning glories and 100 passion flowers. Sets of the specimens have been distributed among the various institutions co-operating in the expedition, which was part of the botanical exploration of northern South America begun in 1917 by the New York Botanical Garden, the Gray Herbarium of Harvard university, and the National museum.

Ancient Adornments

Closely related to necklaces of precious stones are the chains and collars of gold which appear to have been used by the Hebrews for ornament as well as official distinction much as they are, to a certain extent, today. Ancient Persians were extremely fond of gold ornaments and conspicuous among the various objects were chains.

Mother Drowns Trying to Save Three Children

St. John's, N. F.—A tragedy of the Far North in which a courageous Eskimo mother lost her life in an attempt to save three of her children from drowning was described here by Captain Burgess of the steamer Ungava, just back from a cruise along the Labrador coast.

The three children, a boy and two girls, were fishing at the edge of the ice near Igloolik when a large floe broke away and carried them out to sea. The mother saw the children just as the floe overturned and threw the children into the water, the children clinging to the edge of the ice.

The mother launched a leaky boat, the only one available, and with a tub as a hull set out to the rescue. She reached the children and drew them into the boat. The hull fell to pieces, as she worked desperately throwing out the water and attempting to paddle at the same time. Before she could paddle the rapidly filling craft back to shore the boat sank, and all were drowned.

Girl Lives in Cell 14 Years After Love Spat

Key West, Fla.—A girl who fourteen years ago imprisoned herself with a vow that her lover never again would see her face is dead, faithful to her oath.

The girl, Julia Colon, pretty Cuban senorita whose hair reached her knees, quarreled with her sweetheart when she was thirteen.

"I never want to see your face again," he told her in a flare of anger, and as heartily she vowed he would not, and retired to a room in her aunt's house, where only once since, prior to a fatal illness, had anyone, even a close relative, seen her.

The lover returned and pleaded for forgiveness, but the door remained closed. Food was given her through a small door opening; she made her clothes, and attended to all the routine of daily life for herself within her room.

THE NEW FARMING ACCOUNT SCHOOL

The good business farmer today watches his farm accounts carefully. In respect to his labor, his farm stock and his soil, he knows what they can do and how they can be most profitably handled. He knows the mathematics of growing feed from the soil, pigs and poultry from the feed and cash profits from pigs and poultry. He knows whether he is milking the cow for paying returns or the cow is milking him out of his invested capital. Wherever his accounts show a deficit or insufficient profit on one or more items, he immediately studies to overcome the handicap and correct any mistakes that have been made.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association is conducting a nationwide educational campaign for better methods of farm accounting. The commission has been stressing the wisdom of country bank work through cooperation of county agents, calling farmers together, and holding account schools where instruction is given on the use of the farm account books.

Each person is led through the various steps in keeping accounts and each enters his own inventory which he has previously been instructed to take and bring to school. This gives a good start and when properly followed up by letters and an occasional visit by the specialist in charge, greatly aids the man who is really in earnest to come through his first year of keeping accounts successfully. Many times country banks offer the rooms for holding the account schools. In some instances, an employee of the bank is designated to assist farmer patrons during the year in keeping their accounts.

HOW TO GO BROKE FARMING

1. Grow only one crop.
2. Keep no livestock.
3. Regard chickens and a garden as nuisances.
4. Take everything from the soil and return nothing.
5. Don't stop gullies or grow cover crops—let the top soil wash away, then you will have "bottom" land.
6. Don't plan your farm operations. It's hard work thinking—trust to luck.
7. Regard your woodland as you would a coal mine, cut every tree, sell the timber and wear the cleared land out cultivating it to corn.
8. Hold fast to the idea that the methods of farming employed by your grandfather are good enough for you.
9. Be independent—don't join with your neighbors in any form of co-operation.
10. Mortgage your farm for every dollar it will stand to buy things you would have the cash to buy if you followed a good system of farming.—Division of Extension, University of Tennessee.

Reads Combination of Vault Through Hole

New York.—Just before 5 p. m. the other day Miss Hattie Dingle, a stenographer for the Great Housekeeping Institute, on the sixth floor of the International Magazine building, went into the institute's 30 foot steel and terra-cotta vault to file correspondence. Some one, possibly an office boy who had not seen Miss Dingle enter, shut the door and twisted the combination dials.

A few minutes later, as the workers were preparing to go home, faint knockings were heard. A check showed only Miss Dingle was missing. Then it was disclosed that only she had the combination numbers to unlock the door. Other stenographers searched her notebook but could not decipher her shorthand.

Nearly an hour later members of a police emergency squad chipped a small hole in the terra cotta wall and passed Miss Dingle's notebook to her. She read off the dial numbers and the steel door was unlocked.

"My, it was hot in there," she said as she emerged. "But I wasn't much frightened." Then after resting a few minutes she started for her home.

Head Wedged in Pail of Water, Boy Drowns

London, Ont.—Stuart, the three-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. David Bessary, Delaware township, near here, was drowned when his head became wedged in a pail of water into which he had fallen while playing. Life was extinct when the youngster was found.

About 9:30 a. m. the child left the house to play and when relatives did not notice him in the yard, a search was instituted, which ended when the body was found in the pail which was in a chicken coop.

The little fellow had entered the chicken run by crawling through a small hole cut through to allow the chickens to enter. The pail was a small one, used originally to hold bird and contained only a few inches of water.

Finds Mate's "Business" Burglary as He Is Slain

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Killing of a man by police here, has revealed to a young mother that the "business" of her "successful" husband was burglary.

Joseph Ricardo, thirty, slain in a chase after robbing three homes, was identified as Julius Brewis, who lived with his wife and child in an expensive apartment and enjoyed an excellent reputation.

Brewis' wife never knew that her husband had served terms in Sing Sing and a New Jersey penitentiary or that on the nights he was "detained by business" he was robbing homes. His business had been so good lately, Brewis had informed her, that they would go to Europe on a vacation trip.

VARIOUS PLANS TO STEAL TIME AND MONEY FROM THE UNWARY

Bankers Association Official Tells How Young People Are Fleeced in "Hokum Pokum" Movie Schemes—The Investor Loses Savings by Listening to Messrs. Slick and Smooth.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

THE fabulous salaries paid stars of the first magnitude, and the publicity of the "movies" naturally create longing in the breasts of thousands of our young Americans to get into motion pictures. Because so many are ready to leave home, and risk everything on a fling at motion pictures, unscrupulous persons have devised ways of fleecing these ambitious young people out of their savings. "Hokum-pokum" schemes of various kinds are used with great success. Fake courses in the art of acting before the camera, fake courses on how to make-up, fake registration gags and screen tests, are among the schemes used to separate these thousands of young people from their cash.

The pilgrimage to the motion pictures centers by thousands of novices usually ends disastrously for the pilgrims. Naturally a few are successful, but only a very, very few, the ninety and nine meeting with disappointment. The truth is, the number of persons who seek to "break into" the movies exceed the number of available positions by one hundred to one, while in the realm of popular stars it is thousands to one.

W. R. MOREHOUSE

Don't be misled by the promises of promoters of hokum-pokum schemes that there is room for all, because this last year over 100,000 young people knocked at the door for admission and were turned away because there was no room on the inside for them. Consult your banker or address the National Better Business Bureau, New York City, for information or advice regarding any enterprise that seeks to gain possession of your money. They will give disinterested counsel before it is too late.

Also let every investor approached by either Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth with a proposition yielding big dividends remember that such assurances always spell financial danger ahead. To every investor who is inexperienced in making investments, in other words perhaps just a little green and perhaps a little too easy, any offer coming from this source should be like a red flag warning to come to a complete stop.

Such investments as Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth offer are too good to be true and therefore they are not true. Slick, Smooth and Company are not miracle workers although from their sales talk you would infer that they could make you rich as if by magic. No, they are not miracle workers—just slick and smooth.

The Estate Gag

Twenty-four "estates" representing $1 1/2 billions of dollars have been used as bait to interest a lot of savers and finally bleed them of their savings. The scheme is built around a supposed search for the heirs to certain phantom estates. At all costs these heirs must be found. Every person who can by any hook or crook, figure it out that he is in anyway related to the deceased are urged by some shady lawyer or genealogist to send in their names and their life history.

Soon they receive glad tidings telling them that their family tree can be traced back to the deceased, in fact, they are a direct descendant and an heir at law.

Like fake raffles everybody who responds to the search is found to be a winner—in other words an "heir." Here is where the rainbow chaser gets trimmed. Before his claim to the mythical thousands can be pressed so as to insure success a demand is made on him to advance attorney's fees and pay the expense of tracing through his genealogy.

The Pilgrimage to the Movies

heavy loss to them have been worked under the following names:

Baker	$ 250,000,000
Chadwick	17,000,000
Edwards	30,000,000
Ingraham	500,000,000
Hyde	360,000,000

Palace Boxers Take Six Victories From Milwaukee Boys

real scrap between two of the best amateurs appearing on the card. At the close of three rounds Ross was given the verdict. Munsell was doored twice during the bout, but did not remain down long enough for the referee to start a count.

In the semi-windup Larry Levette, Waukegan, won over Johnny Butler, Milwaukee, after three rounds of good hard socking. Friends of Jimmy Hall, Lake Villa, who has not appeared in the ring for several weeks, were well pleased to see him stage a regular comeback against such a classy mauler as Mat Dahlman, of Milwaukee. After being doored for a count of five in the second session, Jimmy came back strong in the third and before the round was half over had Dahlman groggy and holding on, and although the fight went full four rounds, Hall was easily the victor.

Noted High Diver To Perform at Waukegan 4th Legion Festival

Swan Ringens, noted high diver and holder of a dozen or more records in aquatic sports, together with her pretty diving girls is to furnish one of the interesting features of the American Legion Fourth Annual Summer Festival on August 31, Sept. 1, 2, and 3, to be held on the Beach in Waukegan, Illinois.

Miss Swan Ringens is one of the best poised and coolest divers before the public. She displays so little concern over her eighty foot plunge into a five foot tank of water, that many of her friends and admirers believe she is not fully aware of the extreme chances she takes with death. She goes up higher than any other woman diving professional and makes a classic of her work, dropping through space so smoothly and accurately that the feat appears easy to the spectators.

All of the young water nymphs Miss Ringens carries with her are expert divers and give a worthwhile exhibition of the most popular and intricate types of diving from high spring boards. Professional divers of aquatic sports fully appreciate the remarkable exhibition given by these beautiful girls.

Miss Ringens and her diving beauties will perform three times each day during the Festival.

ANTIOCH WALLOPS BALL HARD TO BEAT K. C. TEAM 9 TO 4

Upset Puts K. C.'S Out of Running For League Banner.

The up and coming Antioch nine took a well played game from the strong K. C.'s of Waukegan by a 9-4 score on the loser's own field. The decisive victory of the local players was generally regarded as the biggest upset of the entire league season as the K. C.'s have a well balanced outfit and have been playing good ball and were expected to win without much trouble. The defeat put the K. C. team out of the running for the title, for which the John-Maurville team has the best chance.

The Antioch nine scored 4 runs in the second inning on hits by Pengra, Drom, Nixon, and Lasco mixed in with a walk by Boyer and a fielders choice by Simpson. Blunched hits were responsible for 5 more runs in the 6th and 9th innings. Every man had a hand in the attack with Nixon and Pengra leading with 3 hits each. The locals rolled up a total of 15 safe blows and 2 walks of Kola, crack K. C. pitcher who holds an 8-1 decision over John Wedekind's, North Chicago Bombers, and were helped by several more by sensational support of his teammates, especially Raasch, and Kuzmickos, former K. C. stars.

Eddie Drom took care of the pitching for the locals and held the heavy hitting K. C. batsman to 8 scattered hits, and giving only 2 walks while whiffing five. The victory was especially sweet to Eddie as the K. C. catcher was a former battery mate of his at the University of Illinois and is probably the best catcher in the Lake County League.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"MIND" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, August 19.

The Golden Text was from Proverbs 2:6, "The Lord giveth wisdom; out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding. Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous" (1 Peter 3:8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When we realize that there is one Mind, the divine law of loving our neighbor as ourselves is unfolded; whereas a belief in many ruling minds hinders man's normal drift towards the one Mind, one God, and leads human thought into opposite channels where selfishness reigns" (p. 295).

Farmers Will Gather for Outing at Diamond Lake Wednesday.

The committee in charge of the Lake County Farm Bureau Picnic has been very fortunate in securing Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick to deliver the address of the day at their annual farmers picnic to be held at Diamond Lake, Wednesday, August 29. Mrs. McCormick is an able speaker, and will have a worth-while message for the city people as well as the farmers of Lake county. Everyone is invited to attend the annual picnic.

The Horseshoe Pitching contest will start at 10 o'clock, so as to get the preliminaries over in the morning, the finals to take place at 2:45 in the afternoon.

The 441 Club calves, pigs and sheep will be shown, and will be judged in the morning. Mr. C. L. Knoll of Antioch has charge of the club show.

Some of the athletic events, together with the horseshoe pitching contest, will be run off in the morning, and the rest after dinner. Mr. A. H. Piersdorff of Antioch will manage the athletic events.

The band from Fort Sheridan will furnish the music for the day. There will be clowns and special feature attractions.

The Public Service company of Northern Illinois is installing amplifiers for the picnic.

The merchants of the county have been very generous in their donations for premiums this year.

Two More School Men Inspect Local Agriculture Dept.

Mr. Schaaf, Principal and Agriculture teacher of Plato Center spent several hours here Monday studying the organization of the Agricultural department of the Antioch Township High School.

Mr. Miller, Agriculture teacher of Blackey, Illinois, also spent some time looking over the Farm Mechanics shop Monday afternoon.

PERSONALS

Mrs. N. L. Nelson and Mrs. W. A. Hosing were Kenosha visitors last Tuesday.

Reports from California indicate that Mr. Hoover expects to begin an extensive speaking campaign in September. During the campaign he plans to visit cities in the east, the middle west and the border states, conferring at the same time with leading citizens on national problems. Senator Curtis also plans to campaign extensively, particularly in the middle west, which he has represented so effectively in Congress for a third of a century. His first address will be delivered in New York state.

COOK COUNTY FAIR OPENS AUGUST 29

A tribe of Indians, a galaxy of society girls and women with their thoroughbred entries, the children of Cook County and their juvenile achievements, as well as a program which fills five days of entertainment, education and interest will mark the 1928 Cook County fair, which will be held at Palatine, Ill., from August 29 to September 3.

This announcement was made by Secretary T. C. Hart Monday as he worked on plans to make September 2nd, "Democratic Day" and September 3rd, "Republican Day," a home coming of all Democrats and Republicans in the State and County.

Every candidate in the state and county will be invited to participate in the festivities on those days.

STOLEN BICYCLE IS RECOVERED

A bicycle stolen here last Tuesday from Bruce Dalgard was found Friday at Lake Geneva, in the possession of John Januszak, a young man whose home is in Mukwonago, Wis. Januszak had come to this locality in the hope of obtaining employment. He told Lake Geneva officers who placed him under arrest Friday on the charge of theft. He claimed to have worked in Trevor last summer. Making his way to Antioch and being tired of journeying about he picked up the bicycle as an easier mode of transportation. Following his arrest he was turned over to the sheriff of Kenosha county and the bike was returned to its rightful owner here.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rentner visited relatives in Herwyn Sunday.
